

Year 12 workshop

Paper rod workshop

Curriculum Development Project AS workshop

The C.D.P project was designed around the impending AS and A2 exams in summer. I discussed with my S.C.T the possibility of the class doing work related to initial research into their exams, as I wanted the workshops to be as useful to the class as possible.

Due to a severe time shortage due to a planned visit, the AS class only had approximately 90 minutes to get into groups, respond to the exam theme of "Habitation" and evaluate and present to the rest of the group in this time frame. I wasn't sure if the groups would take this workshop seriously but both groups responded well and produced lovely sculptures responding to a variety of different habitations. They were enthusiastic to present and evaluate their work and all enjoyed the ability to work in groups, which is something they said was an unusual occurrence at A level.
